

Automatic stove shutoff

Price: 150-300 EUR

Where to buy: In every electronic store; on the Internet.

Description: An automatic stove shutoff is an electronic device, which switches off the stove automatically in the case of excessive heat development and can thus prevent domestic fires. Such an automatic shutoff system is often integrated in new electric stoves. Older stoves can be upgraded with an external device.

Case description: Mr. Southgate is a passionate cook and likes to try new recipes. Recently, however, he has increasingly noticed that he forgot to switch off the hot plate. In order to prevent a house fire, he decides to buy an automatic stove shut-off.
